OUR PERSPECTIVE: STATE OF THE UNION

We must embrace the diversity of our nation and those who come to us seeking safety and stability and not build walls or create policies that marginalize the most vulnerable among us.

LOOK INSIDE

INSIGHTS INTO IMPACT

Heartland Alliance's Freedom From Trafficking (FFT) team has been helping survivors of human trafficking since 2011 – and Megan Mahoney (Director of FFT) and Darci Flynn (Associate Director of FFT) have been around since the beginning. During that time, they have developed region-wide coalitions of human service agencies that have gone on to serve over 800 survivors of trafficking – including 107 survivors within the Freedom From Trafficking program. We recently had a chance to sit down with the duo to talk about why they are so passionate about this work.
